

Personal Information*Jinsil Seong*Address: Yonsei UniversityCountry: South KoreaCurriculum Vitae

Professor Jinsil Seong currently works at Department of Radiation Oncology, Yonsei Cancer Center, Yonsei University College of Medicine, Seoul. She graduated from Yonsei University College of Medicine, Seoul and subsequently completed her PhD degree from Yonsei University, Seoul. Prior to her current position, she has been a Visiting Scientist in Department of Experimental Radiotherapy, M.D. Anderson Cancer Center, Houston, USA.

Professor Seong is a former President of Yonsei Liver Cancer Study Group and also a member of various national and international societies including International Liver Cancer Association, Korean Liver Cancer Study Group, European Society for Therapeutic Radiology and Oncology and American Society for Therapeutic Radiology and Oncology. She served as a member of the Editorial Board of International Journal of Radiation Oncology Biology Physics for the past 10 years. She also served as a president of Korean Liver Cancer Study Group until June 2017.

Currently she is a president of Korean Society of Radiation Bioscience, co-chair of Asian Liver Radiation Therapy (ALRT) group, a Board member of Asian Clinical Oncology Society, secretary general of Asia Pacific Primary Liver Cancer Expert (APPLE) Association, as well as a hosting chairman of APPLE 2018. She is also working as a consultant in International Atomic Energy Agency.

Research Interest:

Research interest is “Radiotherapy of HCC” in clinical approach as well as in translational research. A total of 140 invited talks, 6 book chapter writing, and 266 papers involving 166 SCI-listed ones has been done.